The 47 females were struck off on November 9 for an average of $6,694.68. The average is strong for All American Sales given the fact that it is based entirely on uncalved females—17 bred heifers, 2 open yearlings and 24 heifer calves—and four in vitro sessions with elite females. When auctioneer Chris Hill's gavel fell for the last time, 43 buyers from 22 states coast-to-coast and border-to-border had made purchases

Jersey breeders also purchased shares in a donated female to help one of their own—Lexi Anderson—with medical expenses related to a heart transplant. The $30,000 generated from the effort will be given to the Jersey junior from Cumberland, Wis., along with the heifer herself.
